They See Not Alike.

BY LEO.

The late elections have given rise to much speculation as to the meaning thereof. The politicians see what they wish to behold. They see through the medium of their desires, and, of course, do not see alike.

Governor Harmon reads the returns and exclaims, "Good, it is a promise of a sweeping victory for Democracy next year." Senator Bearke glances over the election news and says, "It is all right, Taft is doomed to retirement next year." The President takes in the outlook and affirms, "The administration is endorsed." It is not reported what Senator LaFollette said, but we venture the assertion that he was well pleased and saw himself made chief magistrate of the republic.

People looking at the same object—a tree, a house, a mountain or an election—never see alike. It is the mind that sees and minds are various.

As to the late elections, we can see no great discouragement to either party. The favors were about equally divided, but upon the whole, as the Democratic New York World puts it, the preponderance of gain is in favor of the Republicans.

Ohio is Republican. Some of the cities favored, at the late election, the Democratic candidates. It was personal rather than political preference. Anyhow there ought to be less politics in the government of cities. But if the chief cities of Ohio—Cincinnati, Columbus and Cleveland—chose Democratic mayors it does not prove that the state has turned Democratic. Next year Ohio will roll up a big majority for the Republican candidates. That is the outlook to us, but possibly we, too, see things through the medium of our desires.

How things will turn out in 1912 is beyond the ken of the keenest politicians. Cullom, the statesman, states his version with a moderation. When President Taft, on returning, made a speech in Chicago, he frankly admitted the possibility of defeat for his party next year. This was a stunner to some, and they said the President was worried with his journey. What nonsense! The President stated the plain truth. The admission of possible defeat shows a mind capable of grasping truth. What harm in expressing one's views? President Taft did not say that defeat for his party was probable, much less that it was certain; he only admitted the possibility of it. The party has been defeated and will be again, perhaps next year, but there is no sure sign of it just now.

To be sure, the insurgent Republicans are doing their best to prevent the nomination of Taft for another term. So did many Republicans try to prevent the nomination of Lincoln for a second term. Old Abe got there all the same, and we believe that Taft will succeed in spite of his adversaries in the party.

Wm. H. Taft has made an elegant chief magistrate, courteous, popular, and dignified enough, altogether the wisest, kindest chief magistrate since Lincoln. It would be foolish for the Republicans to turn him down in favor of a less capable man.

LaFollette is a good enough senator and had better keep where he is, but he would be a poor president. However, those who push him forward at this time have no idea of making him president. They only use him to prevent the nomination of Taft. If the convention fails to nominate the President on the first or second ballot, the word will pass around that Taft can not be nominated at all. And in due time, when the psychological moment has come some fluent man will arise on the floor and propose another name—a potent name—but it will not be LaFollette. And perhaps the convention will be stampeded for the new candidate.

This may be the insurgent scheme; we believe it will fail. And we further believe that it ought to fail. We can have no better man for the place than Taft.

may not paralyze a home so completely as a mother's long illness. But Dr. King's New Life Pills are a splendid remedy for women. "They gave me wonderful benefit in constipation and female trouble," wrote Mrs. M. C. Dunlap, of Leadville, Tenn. If ailing, try them. 25c at Wm. Kipp's Sons Co.

Gettysburg.

The election here passed off quietly, with about the usual attendance and with the result generally of the survival of the fittest. A. W. Fair was elected mayor of our village and the following persons for the various township offices to be filled, to-wit: D. F. Witwer, O. H. Myers, H. C. Tisor, Trustees; S. A. Myers, Treasurer; Samuel Hershey, Clerk; Rudy Etter, Assessor, W. P.; Ed Moore, Assessor, E. P.; P. B. Miller and W. H. F. Heath, Justices; A. D. Cole, Constable; Frank Vanlue and Z. A. Clark, Members Board of Education. A contest grew out of the school election, the result of which brought out the lady voters to the number of nearly sixty, which gave quite an impetus to the excitement and was the means of giving the successful members a very much increased vote.

The M. E. Sunday school had rally day yesterday and though the day was somewhat inclement the school had a good attendance and rendered an excellent exercise, the last, though not least, was an enthusiastic and inspiring speech by Supt. P. B. Moul, the requirements of which, if carried out by the teachers and scholars, will add much to the prosperity of the school.

On last Friday Supt. H. L. Sullivan attended the Central Ohio Teachers' Association, held at Cincinnati the latter part of last week. He doubtless returned loaded with a large stock of good things to ply in his school.

Mrs. P. B. Miller is gone to Bowling Green for a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. Rev. J. A. Hoffman.

Miss Lizzie Moul of Pleasant Hill spent Sunday here with relatives.

A sudden and extreme change in the weather took place here between Saturday and yesterday morning, and during that time it changed from balmy and spring-like weather on Saturday to a real wintry condition yesterday morning, the mercury dropping about fifty degrees in about fifteen hours, and by a still further drop from then to this morning of about ten degrees colder. The first snow visible upon the ground was of the depth of about one inch, and gave a very frigid appearance, which was not wholly fanciful, as many realized who had to brave the storm in going about to look after some neglected or undone matters. A very high wind accompanied the change, the result of which was considerable damage in a good many cases.

Sixtyseven years ago today it was Emanuel Hershey and Miss Bear, the day following it was Emanuel Hershey and wife. Tomorrow they celebrate the sixty-seventh anniversary of their marriage. This is an event that does not often happen, that persons live together as husband and wife for so long a period.

Who says Gettysburg is not a progressive village? Within two or three weeks two fights have occurred within her borders, which carries with it a going some. A real pugilistic spirit is developing and it may be no surprise if we should find some one here who will consider himself a match for Jack Johnson or some other noted pugilist. Surely, there is no telling what latent talent may be unearthed among the possibilities existing here. I had been making it an effort of my life to write up the business, religious, social and educational qualifications of our people, but I never thought that new sources of prowess might arise and claim the work of my facile pen, but verily, it seems changes will come, and that I am constrained to take up a new theme it gives me pleasure to add this additional virtue to the character of our people, it is indeed gratifying. It tends so much to ennobling the character of our people, and adds a veritable fame to the village, for which all should feel proud and grateful. Who will be next to exhibit his manliness? We are all waiting for the climax to come in another worthy act of the sort to enlarge the pinnacle of our fame.

Tomorrow evening revival begins in our M. E. church. Nov. 13. XOB
